WILMINGTON, NC - Wilmington Police Chief Ralph Evangelous is no longer in the running for Savannah's Top Cop.

Chief Evangelous pulled out of the process on Friday, October 10 after giving the job opportunity much thought and consideration. "While I was truly honored at the invitation to be a part of this process, I have decided after much consideration and talk with my family to remain at the Wilmington Police Department", says Chief Ralph Evangelous. "Wilmington is my home and I am committed to continuing our efforts to fight crime in this City".
